The 17th International Fragrant Rose Trials
Guidelines for Applications

The Purpose of the Trials

The purpose of the trials is to encourage the well-balanced development of rose breeding, in particular the breeding of roses suited to cold, snowy regions, which will thus add to the attraction of the rose garden in Echigo Hillside Park. Special emphasis is placed on fragrance – developing new fragrance, without neglecting our ancestors' achievements, as an old Chinese adage goes.

Sponsor: National Echigo Hillside Park

Supported by: The Ministry of Land, Infrastructure, Transport and Tourism of Japan.
The Ministry of Agriculture, Forestry, and Fisheries of Japan.
Niigata Prefecture.
Nagaoka City.

1. Eligibility for Applications: Breeders both professional and amateur, in Japan and overseas, and also agents (including nurseries) for such breeders
When an agent is the applicant, documentation from the breeder which states that they have entrusted the agent with the application for the trials must be provided.
The sponsor of the trials bears no responsibility for matters concerning the intellectual property rights and/or sales rights of the breeders. If any problems occur, they should all be resolved between the parties concerned. Awards may be revoked by the sponsor depending on the outcome.
2. Acceptable Rose Varieties:
 - (1) Varieties that have never been on the market within or outside Japan, or varieties that were first made available for sale on or after January 1, 2018.
Up to two entries are allowed per variety.

(2) Addressee and deadline for rose trees

The rose trees should arrive at the National Echigo Hillside Park either from November 15th through December 15th, 2021, or from March 1st through the end of March, 2022.

*Please send the rose trees after submitting the application form.

(3) Sending rose trees from outside Japan:

(a) Rose trees should be sent by airmail. The applicant bears all responsibility for ensuring that the package undergoes quarantine inspection by the Japanese government, i.e. an original phytosanitary certificate issued by the government of his or her own country (a copy is not acceptable) and a label for customs inspection, clearly indicating that the contents are rose trees, should be attached to the parcel.

Roses which do not meet the above conditions, or those which are sent by sea mail, will not be accepted for inspection, and will be discarded.

*Please note that when sending rose trees from certain countries it may also be necessary to have an inspection on the field performed by the relevant government agency of the country of origin.

(b) Applicants are responsible for the cost of transportation including any quarantine charges in the country of origin and in Japan. We cannot accept the rose trees with insufficient postage. We cannot make up any shortfall such as quarantine inspection fees etc.

(c) Entry code labels must be put on each tree to be entered with no exceptions.
